A passport is good for two years from its date and no longer. A new one may be obtained by stating the date and number of the old one, paying the fee of five dollars, and furnishing satisfactory evidence that the applicant is at the time within the United States. The oath of allegiance must also be transmitted when the former passport was issued prior to 1861.

Citizens of the United States desiring to obtain passports while in a foreign country must apply to the chief diplomatic representative of the United States in that country, or, in the absence of a diplomatic representative, then to the Consul General, if there be one, or, in the absence of both the officers last named, to a Consul.

Certificates of citizenship or passports issued by State authorities, or by judicial or Municipal functionaries of the United States, are not recognized by the officers of foreign governments; and by the 23d section of the Act of Congress approved on the 18th of August, 1856, it is made penal for such authorities and functionaries to issue such passports.

To persons wishing to obtain passports for themselves, blank forms of application will be furnished by this Department on request, stating whether the applicant be a native or a naturalized citizen. Forms are not furnished, except as samples, to those who make a business of procuring passports.

Communications should be addressed to the Department of State, indorsed "Passport Division," and each communication should give the Post Office address of the person to whom the answer is to be directed.

Mr. Wall's letter in behalf of Alfred Roseman does not state whether that gentleman is now in the United States.

OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

I

This oath is required from pensioners once, (on the first payment to new ones,) who are native-born, or have been naturalized. If a ward, from the guardian, and whenever there is a change of guardian; if dead, from the person or persons executing the vouchers. When those of foreign birth have not resided in the United States, the magistrate may certify to the same; but if they have, and do not owe allegiance, it should be properly explained. When a pension has been increased, and the oath has been previously furnished, it will not be required again of the pensioner.

I, Anne C. Fendall, a pensioner of the United States, do solemnly swear that I will support, protect, and defend the Constitution and Government of the United States against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign, and that I will bear true faith, allegiance, and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution, or law of any State Convention or Legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and, further, that I do this with a full determination, pledge, and purpose, without any mental reservation or evasion whatsoever; and, further, that I will well and faithfully perform all the duties which may be required of me by law: So help me God.

Gent. Your communication is to hand & noted. I now enclose the affidavit of C. We understand that it will cause considerable trouble, time & expense to restore the proceedings <sup>held under</sup> of former record and beg to say that the producing of Mr C. Hall's appointment of Consul of the United States at Berlin ought in our opinion be a sufficient proof of his citizenship, as he could not have received the appointment without being a citizen; should this however not <sup>be</sup> deemed sufficient, and Mr H. says that he has formerly received a passport by producing this paper which we heretofore enclosed to you, we would beg you to return the Five Dollar fee, <sup>& his expenses</sup> as Mr H. leaves for Europe in a few days and has not got the time to attend to the
